FOREWORD

We invite you to join us in expanding the "network" of Manitoba organizations involved in learning about and working for international development. It is a challenge, indeed, to provide a comprehensive directory given time and resource restrictions plus the wide range of definitions of development education. It is our aim to continue to expand our directory, so we invite you to send us a description of your organization if you feel that your organization educates Manitoba about international development.

We apologize to any organization inadvertently excluded due to lack of time or oversight on our part.

A word should be given concerning the structure of this volume.

Section I includes detailed descriptions of the Manitoba Council for International Cooperation (MCIC) and MCIC member agencies.

Section II includes descriptions of organizations doing programming which includes some activities focusing on international development issues. (This section is not an exhaustive sample, but will give you some idea of work being done in Manitoba.)

Section III includes a listing (name, address, telephone number) of organizations whose work relates or links to international development in a broader sense.

Section IV includes a listing of other directories you will find useful to expand your networks.

Section V includes alphabetical index of names, name variations, acronyms and order forms.

It is hoped that this volume will be a useful resource to international development education organizations, as well as to the Manitoba community at large. Please let us know how useful the directory has been to you. Please call if you wish your organization to be listed in our next edition.

Until the next edition, happy networking!
